-In New York, on Thursday last, a youth named John Lang, while at work, was seriously burned about the face by the explos' n of a kerosene lamp. These accidents are becoming numerous, and some effort should be made to protect the thoughtless and ignorant from the dangers that are daily occurring from the use of explosive burning fluid.

-The French|Atlantic Cable, it is announced, will be completed by June 1st, only one hundred and seventy miles of the line having to be made. The Great Eastern, with the cable aboard, and with the tenders, will leave Sheerness, near the mouth of the Thames, on June 10th, and, after coaling at Portland, will procood to Brost. From Divet the Great Besters will immediately start for St. Pierre, off Newfoundland, while two other shins will sail for St. Pierre direct, to lay the portion of the line between St. Pierre and Duxbury, Massachusetts. The land line from Duxbury to New grasp. York is already in course of construction.

-The Detro't Free Press makes the following singular statement: "Senator Chandler left here, with his family and servants, on Saturday night, for New York where he will remain a few days preparatory to sailing to Europe. His wife and daughter each take with them a colored female servant, and he takes two black male servants. These servants are to be fitted out while in New York with very showy livery. The coats of the men servants are to be of lavender color, with white buttons, upon which is the Michigan coat of arms, except that the stags support the letter C, which is of red enamel, with gold edge. The female servants wear large belt buckles bearing the same design as that upon the buttons. The hats of the men are black, with a wide purple band and a large silver cockade, in the centre of which is one of the buttons aforesaid.

-The statistics of divorce in Connecticut are startling. During last year the divorces numbered four hundred and seventy-eight, or more than one-tenth the number of marriages. All the marriages celebrated in the State dur ing the year are included in the total of 4784. The Norwich Bulletin says: "A large proportion of these are marriages between foreigners, communicants of the Roman Catholic Church, who, except in very rare cases, never trouble the courts. The twen y-five unhappy couples whose names adorned the Superior Court docket for this county at its last term ara, without exception, native citizens. Add to this the number who are practically divorced, but who, from family or other considerations, neglect to obtain a legal separation, and the extent of the evil will be made apparent." The new Governor of Connecticut has recom commended to the Legislature a modification of the existing divorce laws, the provisions of which are so lax that there is hardly any application for divorce which the judges could legally refuse.

—Last Wednesday, in New York City, an election was held among the Methodists for five trustees to take charge of the usual great camp meeting, to be held at Sing Sing, in August. The female members were entitled to vote, and as great complaints were made last year by this portion of the church in regard to the unfair and injudicious allotment of the tents, great excitement prevailed. Five printed tickets, containing the names of the candidates differently combined, were distributed by canvassers stationed near the polls, but "acratching" also prevailed to some extent. By six c'clock only thirty-five female votes had been cast, but according to the tactics of an ordinary political election, the women reserved their strength till the last moment, and at 8 o'clock, the time of closing the polls, came up in a large body of near a hundred, to decide the contest. In addition, the married women exercised a supervision over their husband's votes, examining the ticket and depositing it in the box, with the remark in some cases "You may vote that, dear; that's all right." This incident caused the general observation, "That's what we're coming to."

-The newest of the new plans for connecting England with France by railway, is that of a submerged iron tube, to be supported at a depth of about 50 feet below the surface of the water by iron trestles, the feet of which will rest upon the bed of the straits. The tube is to be in its outside diameter 28 feet 6 inches, and with a view of giving it sufficient strength it is to be of cast iron, 8 inches in thickness, Tte length between each pair of legs or supports to be 300 feet, and the weight of each | bile.

THE DAILY NEWS. of these sections 3000 tons. Each of these lengths is to be made up of 8 segments of 87 feet 6 inches, and these are to be firmly bolted together by means of steel bolts passing through external flanges. Each segment will be made water-tight by a bulkhead, and will be lowered until it is brought into exact position with the portion previously fixed, and when made fast by the bolts the near bulkhead will be removed, and the workmen will pass on to the next segment. The ventillation of the tube is to be provided by stationary steam power at one of the entrances to the tube, which will force a sufficiency of air through a channel constructed along the inner roof of the tube to a point about midway of its entire length, where it will be discharged and force itself along the tube to either end. All this sounds impracticable enough; but we live in an age of marvels, and perhaps the the scheme may one day be realized.

CHARLESTON.

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 1, 1869.

Our Western Connections

The report of John B. Lafitte, Esq., the representative of the City of Charleston, before the City Council of Cincinnati, is a clear and comprehensive summary of the arguments in favor of a railway connection between the Queen of the West and the great seaport of South Carolina. And while it shows conclusively that the most advantageous terminus for the proposed Southern road is Knoxville and not Chattanooga, it gives us the encouraging assurance that whatever route may finally be adopted, we shall have a connection with both Louisville and Cincinnati, by the time that the Blue Ridge Railroad is completed. The Knoxville route would give Cincinnati a connection with Norfolk and with the railroad systems of North Carolina, Georgia, and Alabams, as well as with Charleston, but even if the less favorable route via Chattanoega be chosen we shall still be able, by taking advantage of the commercial energy a young man's word to travel thirty-five hun- of Louisville, to reach up into the heart of Cincinnati, no less than Charleston, will rapid communication with our seaboard. If we send to her the foreign produce, the salt and other commodities that she may require, the West will send to us the iron and coal of Tennessee, provisions of every kind, and the manufactured articles which Cincinnati can produce more cheaply than any city of the East. These facts, now for the first time, of late years, forced upon the attention of the people of Ohio, will have great weight in determining the manner of expending the ten millions of money which Cincinnati is authorized to lay out in building a Southern railroad. And, however, much private interests may be opposed to the Knoxville route, its claims are now so strong that they cannot well be ignored.

If Knoxville be indeed made the terminus, the result will be due to the exertions of Mr. Lafitte, President Harrison, of the Blue Ridge road, Chief Engineer Low, and the other gentlemen who have so faithfully represented the interests of our City and State. And in any event, we may now go to work with the assurance that it rests with ourselves to decide whether the millions already spent are to be thrown away. or whether by adding to them we make the whole profitable, and secure that commercial prize which has so often eluded our

Mr. Lafitte is especially forcible in his statement of the reasons which should induce us to strain every nerve to secure the prompt completion of the Blue Ridge Railroad. These reasons need not be recapitulated here. But in assuming that the completion of the Blue Ridge Bailroad is the one great object for which to strive, we must not forget that we have no reason to hope for any outside help. Cincinnati and Louisville already have their hands full; they will push forward towards our borders. We must be ready to meet them.

The State Legislature has already au thorized the guarantee of four millions of dollars for the completion of the Blue Bidge Railroad, and has pledged the faith and eredit of South Carolina to the punctual payment of the bonds that may be issued for that purpose. But the great work will require about six millions, and it is all-important that it should not be suffered to lag for want of funds. South Carolina has, at this time, fully $200,000,000 of taxable prcperty, and this must be so increased in amount by the opening of the Blue Ridge Road and the influx of new trade and com merce, that we shall be able to pay, if necessary, the whole interest on the money to be spent in building the road, and yet be less oppressed by taxation than we are at this time. We can give an abundant security for all our debt, and as the Blue Ridge Railroad is for the benefit of the whole State, we should be ready to give it assistance from the common fund, and so hasten the coming of the day which shall link South Carolina and Ohio together, and make each the means of swelling the fortune of the other.

We repeat, that the completion of the Blue Ridge Railroad is the one thing to which we must direct all our efforts. The State, the city and individual citizens must never slacken their endeavors until the great work is accomplished.

A Good Man Gone,

The active business circles of the Southwest have not received, for a long time, so grave a blow as has been dealt them in the casualty by which Colonel L. T. Woodruff, of Mobile, lost his life. He was one of the best of the old school of Southern merchants, and his dignity, courtesy, and nice sense of honor were only equalled by his untiring energy, enterprise, and public spirit as a citizen. In the war, he bore a conspicuous and honorable part as colonel of an Alabama regiment, and since the close of hostilities the unflagging real which he has displayed in the work of the material restoration of our section, won for him the Presidency of the Mobile Board of Trade.

Colonel Woodruff was well known to many of our citizens, and the writer can never forget the genial hospitality with which the members of the press were welcomed by him during a recent visit to MoThe Presbyterians of the North.

Some days ago we had a brief announcement by telegraph of the steps which had been taken by the Presbyterian General Assemblies in New York to reconcile the differences which have so long separated the Old and New Schools of that denomination. The New York papers bring us the particulars of the basis of reunion which has been agreed upon by the two bodies. The doctrinal differences which led to the separation of the Old and New School denominations in 1838, consisted mainly in more or less rigid construction of the standards of the church, especially with reference to the doctrines of election, original sin, &c , the Old School accepting more inflexibly the creed of Calvin, whilst the Confession of Faith was interpreted by the New School in a less literally Calvinistic sense. The basis of reunion now adopted requires that "the Confession of Faith shall continue to be sincerely received and "adopted as containing the system of doc-'trine taught in the Holy Scripture." As each school had professed to do this in its separate organization, there would seem to be no difference on that point warranting a permanent separation. The plan of reunion abstains from deciding the original questions at issue, and each party is left to put its own construction upon the standards, only that henceforth the differences upon these points are not to interfere with the unity and harmony of the church. This plan has yet to undergo the discussion of the various Presbyteries of the two Assemblies, who are to express their approval or disapproval before the 15th of October next, and if approved of by three fourths of each, the two Assemblies, meeting in Pittsburg in November next, shall so declare. and take action for formal reunion. The unanimity and heartiness evinced in the action of the Assemblies would seem to warrant the belief that the Presbyteries will act in the same spirit, and that the reunion of the two churches will be fully completed in November next.

This, however, is not, as some have supposed, a reunion of the Northern and Southern Presbyterian churches; though that subject came up for discussion in the Old School Assembly on a report of the committee on bills and overtures, and was referred to a special committee. The Moderator, however, stated that any action at the present time might be damaging to the peace of the Southern church, and would be inopportune.

Ice is now manufactured in New Orleans so abundantly that it can be afforded to families all over the city at one cent per pound, and to large consumers at three quarters of a cent. It has been tested with ice from Boston, and is found to be more compact and slower in melting. Made from filtered water, it is clear as crystal, and purer than ice naturally formed is apt to be. When shall we have such ice in Charleston?

WE PRINT, to-day, from advance sheets, with which we have been favored, a lively reminiscence of the days of the blookade. which forms the opening article in the forthcoming Charleston monthly, "The XIX Century." The magazine, we hear, will be out this afternoon, and will be on sale at all the book and periodical stores to morrow morning.

CHARLESTON BRANCH LIFE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA.

FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS:

1st. Because it is a home institution managed and outrelled by your own citizens. 2d. Because it is the only monied institution of he kind that loans its funds in the States from which hey are derived.

3d. Because it is purely mutual; all policy holders share in its profits or earnings. Its large and increasing assets belong exclusively to the policy creasing assets belong exclusively to the policy holders.

4th. Because its rates are lower than those of most other companies. And its dividends will be larger. 5th. Because it invests its funds at rates of interest averaging ten per cent., while Eastern companies' rates average less than seven per cent. This makes the dividends of the Association larger and the rates of premium smaller. One hundred dollars improved at six per cent. for fifty years will amount to $1,842 cl. The same smount invested at 'an per cent will produce $11,739 09. Difference in favor of the ten per cent. investment $9.897 08.

6th. Because you ought to insure in a successful institution, and the Life Association of America is achowledged by its enemies as well as its friends to be by far the most successful life insurance institution of its age in the United States.
